tausche Means Change New Premium Collection In Leather

<Berlin, Germany, 2008> A good concept is always based on a great idea. Concepts are even greater when they are open for variation. In the case of tausche, each bag comes with two flaps. Additional ones can be bought to mix and match personal preference. But since "tausche means change", customers can now decide on the fabric as well. Usually, most tausche shoulder bags are produced with new tarpaulin. The premium collection is made of genuine cowhide from Italy. Purists with a weakness for noble materials can henceforth give their bags a new face on a daily basis.

tausche bags are different every day. With the new leather collection, tausche adds even more variation to its multifaceted range of products. Each tausche leather bag comes with a pure leather flap made of the same piece of leather. Concerning the second flap, the customer is spoilt for choice. The future bag owner can decide on further elegant leather flaps in different colours. Additionally, there's a choice of beautifully designed bag flaps. For this purpose, the tausche designers created ten different artworks. These special flaps range from limited editions to unique single peaces. A combination with flaps from the original tausche collection (polyester, cloth or felt) is also possible. tausche designers Heiko Braun and Antje Strubelt are looking forward to discover the cross-overs that tausche enthusiasts create when mixing the existing designs with the new leather edition.
